

Intermediate Level Spoken Exam Sample Tasks

Personal Interview

The examiner will ask you about your studies and your current occupation. You are expected to be able to talk about your studies, your job and what your plans are for the future, etc.

Diagram based dialogue

Use the diagram below to talk about the main processes of coal-fired power stations.

Note: If there is time the examiner will ask some follow up questions based on what you have said.

Important: The diagram may show processes (such as the one above) or you may have to describe the trends shown on a graph - make sure you prepare for both tasks.

Situation

You are a salesperson in a computer shop and a new customer comes in. Talk to the customer and include the following in your dialogue:

- ask them about what they need a computer for
- give advice about which is the most suitable for them (mention PC/laptop, processor speed, RAM, battery capacity, wifi, etc)
- give advice on which operating system and software packages to choose

For the situation you should be familiar with the following: giving your opinion using additional information to back up your viewpoint, asking for and giving advice, requesting information, negotiating, making requests, etc.
